elevate yourself to new heights

Headline News, Stock Market, Weather

The Elite+ subscription is a text-based service that will provide your screens additional features such as Headline News, the Stock Markets (Nasdaq, Dow, S&P), and your local Weather. By combining these new features with your already existing Elite PI screens, this service will make your elevator displays the most dynamic and flexible position indicators available on the market today. Now your displays will offer more than a representation of a simple elevator position. It will now become a multi-functional unit designed to display custom graphics and text, such as advertisements, tenant, building information, text-based messages and now headline news and stock updates as well as the local weather.

With the Elite+, your building will be able to display the latest news and keep your riders up-to-date with what's going on in the world all while getting them to their destination.

Stay Informed. Ride The Elevator.

Aircraft carrier-sized asteroid to zip past Earth next week

An unusual asteroid-sized asteroid, dubbed 2005 YU55, will slowly zip past Earth next Tuesday at 9:26 p.m.

The dark, carbon-rich asteroid, measuring some 1,300 feet, or a quarter of a mile, wide will come within 202,500 miles of Earth, closer than the moon, before it races farther into space. It will be the closest visit by a space rock of this size in more than 30 years.

Most teens trying to lose weight not doing it right

Most overweight and obese teens want to lose weight, but a new study finds they are going about it the wrong way.

Researchers with Temple University in Philadelphia looked at data from 44,000 adolescents and found that about 75 percent of them wanted to shed pounds. But they also found this group was more likely to report smoking.

The researchers said in a statement that they are encouraged that the teens wanted to lose weight, but their methods are often counterproductive.

Israeli paraglider is champion in Himalaya contest

A 26-year-old software engineer from Israel has won the international paragliding championship held in the Himalaya Mountains, beating out more than 200 competitors who gathered on the hot peaks to fly with the vultures.

The Federal Aeronautical Administration (FAI) declared Tel Aviv's general category 11 champion after the five-day competition held in northern India's Himalaya Pradesh in 50-50km in the Himalayas, whose mountains include Everest, the world's highest.
